

Reduce your organisation's gas and electricity prices with Energycentric

Dear ,

Several ACEVO members have already benefited from our new relationship with Energycentric, an independent energy broker that specialises in gas and electric procurement for charitable and non-profit making organisations.

How can Energycentric reduce your organisation's gas and electricity price?

- Energycentric contacts your existing provider and establishes the type of contract you are in, and when your renewal is due.
- When your account is due to be renewed it is put forward to all energy companies, including your incumbent supplier, to obtain the best price.
- You are then provided with options in order to make an informed decision.

NB: Energycentric is remunerated by the energy companies themselves for introducing the business; therefore this service comes at no cost to you.

How can Energycentric recover a refund on gas and electricity overpayments?

- Energycentric can look back at the way your account has been conducted over the last three years and undertake a 'cost recovery' exercise.
- Energycentric then establishes if your organisation has been overcharged and whether you are due a refund.

NB: Cost recovery comes at no expense to you, as it is conducted on a fee basis dependent on the amount of money recovered. If they are unable to recover any monies for you, there is nothing to pay.

How Energycentric has helped ACEVO members

Energycentric has helped:

- National Association for Colitis and Crohn's Disease (NACC) save over 39% on their electricity accounts and 17% on their gas. They were able to recover £2,386.03 in overpayments over the last three years.
- Clybiau Plant Cymru Kids Clubs renegotiate with their incumbent suppliers and save over 20% on one account and nearly 50% on another. A cost recovery exercise is currently being undertaken to recover overpayments for the last three years.
- ACEVO reduce its electricity price by 38%.
